

NZ White Sox on the Road...

19/08/14

The NZ White Sox Team were beaten 8-1 by a strong Canadian Women's Softball Team in Haarlem today. The Sox started well by loading the bases in the first innings courtesy of two walks and two hit pitches and with Ellie Cooper crossing the plate for the first run of the game.

However it was the strong Canadian hitting lineup that came to the fore with 11 hits against the three pitchers used by New Zealand. Megan Farrell started on the mound, Tyneesha Houkamau came in relief and Courtney Gettins closed on the mound.

Danica Ferriso and Ellie Cooper combined with two strong hits at the top of the 7th innings, but were left stranded on base for no more runs scored.

Tomorrow New Zealand face the Olympic and World Champions Japan in pool play.
